MISCELLANEOUS.

Don't

that you can secure almost immediate relief from indigestion, and that uncomfortable fullness after meals, by simply taking a dose of Simmons Liver Regulator? Some people think that because it is called Liver Regulator it has nothing to do with indigestion and the like. It is the inaction of the Liver that causes indigestion, and that fullness; also Constipation, and those Bilious Headaches. Millions have been made to understand this and have been cured from these troubles by Simmons Liver Regulator—a medicine unailing and purely vegetable.

From Rev. M. B. Wharton, Baltimore, Md.
"It affords me pleasure to add my testimony to the great virtues of Simmons Liver Regulator. I have had experience with it, as occasion demanded, for many years, and regard it as the greatest medicine of the times. So good a medicine deserves universal commendation."

WOMAN'S WORLD.

THE WOMAN'S BUILDING AT THE FAIR IS A GREAT SUCCESS.

The Women Graduates—Gymnastics and Fine Carriage—How a Girl Spent a Holiday—A Hot Day Sandwich—The Daughter of a Cabinet Member.

Theoretically I do not believe in separating the work of women and making an exhibition of it by itself; there has always seemed something of a degradation of dignity in such a proceeding. The fine piece of sculpture or the picture is admirable in itself, and not to be judged as being admirable, "considering." We all know what Dr. Johnson said about the bear's dancing. I still hold to this theory, but I could not restrain a strong feeling of pride when I entered the Woman's Building here at the fair, and I am afraid that, notwithstanding theories, I was glad the women had carried out their idea of showing something of what they could do in fine and useful arts, in organizing and carrying out a great undertaking.

I do not see how any one can enter this building and stroll about in it without being immediately conscious of an atmosphere of refinement, of good taste, and most decidedly of success. There is nothing more marked in the whole position than the success of this exhibit. The powers that evoked this exhibit and that rule it ought to be in an admirable frame of mind, and that young lady who designed the structure might well be pardoned for a little self complacency when she sees her name inscribed high on the walls.

There have been direful stories told in various newspapers about the squabbles among the "lady managers" of the board. Somebody has taunted somebody else, and there has been bursting into tears. It is indeed distressing that it should have been left to women to disagree. It is distressing that the angelic example set in the years past by men on all kinds of committees should have gone for nothing and that lady managers should should cry—if they did. Still, gentlemen, patience! Pray continue the good example, and perhaps by the time the next 400 years have rolled over the world the lady managers of that future might be able to swear lustily instead of crying and scolding. Heaven speed the day!—Cor. Women's Tribune.

Three Women Graduates.

Three women took the degree of bachelor of laws at the commencement of the New York university. They all wore black gowns and were conspicuous among the 65 men students who filed down the broad aisle of Carnegie Music hall. The three women were Mrs. Corneilia K. Hoel, Miss Katherine Hogan and Miss M. Stanley. They are familiarly known as "Stanley" by her friends.

Miss Hogan graduated from an elective course at Columbia college in 1888. A textbook on geology from her pen is used extensively in the public schools.

Mrs. Hoel of Brooklyn gives more attention to her social duties than to any other perhaps, being a member of one of that city's oldest families. She was chairman of the press department of the World's Columbian exposition and is well known as a member of the executive board of the State Charities Aid association as she is in legal circles. She is a director of the Woman's Legal Education society and president of the Woman's Law League, besides having the management of The Business Woman's Journal since the death of Mrs. Seymour.

Miss Titus carried off the prize in the competition for the leading scholarship of the junior law class last year, the judges being under the impression that the signature, "M. Stanley Titus," to her thesis belonged to a man.—New York Mail and Express.

Gymnastics and Fine Carriage.

The woman who attracts attention today is she who has a fine carriage, who knows for one thing how to carry her elbows well. This is one of the strong points with the girl who practices private gymnastics to acquire the habit of keeping the elbows quite behind the waist while walking. The smart woman who attracts no such for her beauty of face as fine general appearance, carries her head high, her chest well thrown out and her elbows well back out of the way. The bearing of such a woman has an effect at once. She creates more interest and is more admired than a real beauty who has no dignity or grace of carriage.

How a Girl Spent Her Holiday.

A young woman I know spent Memorial day in a manner peculiarly her own. She didn't garb herself in beautiful raiment and watch the procession pass, neither did she place one flower on the grave of a departed hero, but she did something infinitely sweeter and more useful.

She spent the day out in the country, the fresh, sweet smelling country, where the phebe birds call to each other and the grass is bright with buttercups, and put in her finest touches peering her mother's kitchen. Up at five in the morning and breakfasting at that early hour, she pasted her paper, out in sheets and numbered the night before, and put it on the walls it was to adorn. She put it on in a manner all her own, too, starting at the border, and then putting on the sheet reaching from the border to the waistcoat in the order in which they came and then pasting an extra gold border over the place where they joined.

It was hard work at the best, and doors and windows had to be considered and allowed for, but when it was all finished it looked so well that she felt fully repaid for her labor and has a monument to her efforts that will last many days.—Buffalo News.

A Hot Day Sandwich.

On a hot day the most refreshing form of sandwich is the salad. These are spread with mayonnaise and overlaid with thin slices of tomato, cucumber, grated celery and chopped watercress. Mayonnaise, with finely chopped chicken, boiled egg and chopped celery between thin layers of bread, is a portable form of chicken salad in vogue for picnics. Chopped mushrooms add delicacy and flavor to them. Egg sandwiches, with mustard and spices, are among the simpler forms. But the most highly aesthetic service which a patriotic young woman is preparing for tomorrow.

She has had a dozen eggs boiled hard. These are neatly cut in two and the yolks taken out. These she has mixed with finely cut chicken and celery through the medium of a mayonnaise. The excavation is then filled with this mixture, the two halves of the eggs are put together and then inclosed in cornfectioner's paper. Meanwhile oblong pieces of tissue paper, red, white and blue, have been fringed at the ends. The three colors are laid together and the eggs inclosed by twisting the fringed ends.—New York Evening Sun.

The Daughter of a Secretary.

The secretary of the navy is a widow. He has three children, two daughters and a son. One of his daughters is married, and the other lives with him. She is a beautiful girl and is fond of society. General Herber's wife has been dead about eight years. Prior to her death he kept house, but since that time he has lived at hotels. Miss Herber is widely known and very popular. She is a pronounced blond, quite petite, with regular features and a beautiful complexion.

She is a true daughter of the sunny south. She has much tact and fills her position with grace and dignity. She has acted for some years as her father's secretary. She will now reside over his household. She was educated abroad, is a good linguist, speaks French and Spanish with ease and performs her social duties with grace and tact.—Washington Cor. Chicago Woman's News.

Tartare Sauce.

This sauce is especially seasonable now with fried fish or any dainty fried meat. It is an excellent sauce to serve with broiled chicken. To make this sauce it is usually made by caters, mince shallot or a small onion, add 12 capers also chopped fine, and also half a teaspoonful of mustard. Meanwhile break the yolks of two eggs in a bowl, add slowly, drop by drop at first, a cup of pure olive oil, stirring the mixture all the time. It is best to have the bowl set in cracked ice in summer. When the sauce seems thick like a mayonnaise or heavy custard, add a teaspoonful of very strong vinegar and then the other ingredients. A tiny cucumber pickle minced fine is an improvement. Add also pepper and salt.—Exchange.

The Widow of a Patriot.

In the death of Mrs. Mary Rosetti, the widow of Rosetti, the Roman patriot, all classes of people feel a sense of personal loss. When her husband, with his brothers, made the revolution in 1848 and were banished, Mrs. Rosetti, with her 6-week-old baby in her arms, and with no attendant but M. de Bratiano, disguised as a servant, followed all along the banks of the Danube the boat which the exiles were journeying in the hope of catching a sight of them and cheering them. After a banishment of many years these men returned to place the crown upon the present king. Large hearted and beneficent, Mrs. Rosetti's life was of beautiful service and influence.—Exchange.

Very Little Handshaking.

According to the niceties of etiquette, it has been decided that the ceremonious introduction forbids handshaking, except when a stranger is presented to the hostess, when the civility of extending the hand may tend to place the new-comer at his ease. A young woman simply bows when a young man is presented to her, but rises when presented to those who are evidently older than herself. A single woman is presented to a married woman, rather than the reverse. Bows are now the rule in fashionable circles. It is well to remember this, for nothing is more awkward than when one extends the hand and the other takes no notice of it, just bowing.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Boston's Mayflower Club.

The Mayflower club of Boston is a new organization of women for social purposes only. It has spacious apartments in Park street. They are on the third floor, and the front room has three large windows overlooking the Common. The room in which the lunches are served looks out upon the quiet Granary burying ground, while the kitchen is in the L. Mrs. J. Elliott Cabot has been chosen president, and the other officers are all ladies well known in social circles. The membership is now 200 and the club will double in a few months. It is a clubhouse of its own.—Boston Woman's Journal.

To Perform the Hair.

Girls with perfumed hair are now the "correct thing." It is difficult to do. Of course the hair must be combed carefully every day. That gives the glossy effect which is so much in vogue, but this is only the start in the performing of it. A young lady who has tried it successfully says: "There are many ways of perfuming the hair, but I found the best way was to have a mobcap of soft, thin silk made and lined with cotton that had been thickly sprinkled with sachet powder. Now after weekly shampooing I wear the cap for an hour, and a delicate, indistinct fragrance is imparted to the locks that is the epitome of daintiness."

Swiss Women to Have a Paper.
The women of Switzerland have made arrangements with the Zurich Post, one of the most prominent Swiss papers, to issue every fortnight a supplement entirely under the control of women and edited by Dr. Emily Kempin. The purpose of the paper is to discuss the work of women, to arouse in women a feeling of responsibility regarding their actions, to justify the co-operation of women in all fields of human effort, in anticipation of the time when women shall participate in politics, and above all to give adequate expression to the dignity of woman-as wife and mother in all her legal rights.

The prevailing color is still green, and in combination with white this bids fair to outlive the late much favored violet and green for summer wear. Not only are dresses to be made green, but beautiful white wool or silk wraps will be worn with them, lined with the brighter color. While some greens are very charming to the eye, most are extremely trying to the complexion. But if fashion says green a woman will find some way of making fashion's mandate fit her in every point—figure, complexion and even purse.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Women Shoelaces in France.
A custom is rapidly gaining ground in France, and especially in London and certain other towns, that it may safely be prophesied, will not find much imitation in this country. This is the employment of women as street shoelaces. The Frenchwomen shoelaces are most coquettishly gotten up, and as to their caps and frills have somewhat the appearance of hospital nurses, and it is surprising that, though their occupation is a tolerably dirty one, they always seem clean and tidy. Some of them are doing the polishing in gaudy gloves.

Young Women Graduates.
Out of a class of eight young women graduated at Barnard college in June only two have studied with the intention of teaching. Of the 113 taking their degrees at Smith's college 50 are to teach. Many of the 113 graduates at Wellesley, Mass., and one-fourth of the class at Bryn Mawr will also teach. The normal class of domestic science at Pratt's institute has already found positions for its graduates, one of whom is to teach cookery in a large reformatory school for girls, and to see that nutritious diet is provided for her pupils.—New York Post.

The London Servant Experiment.
The ladies of London are forming a society for the employment of servants, who will come into the house by the day only and return to their own homes at night. Most mistresses prefer having their servants under their own roof so they will be sure of them and breakfast in the morning. It remains to be seen how well the London society succeeds with the scheme.—London Letter.

One Woman's Will.
The latest suggestion which fact has made to fiction consists of a will which a willful woman wrote on the pillow on which her head would rest as she committed suicide. It being legible and distinct, though written in pencil, and properly attested, there was little cause to question it, and it was duly registered.

A Popular Organization.
A Scottish Women's Church Defense Union is the form the resentment of the women of Scotland against the over-throw of their national church takes. The organization is popular and rapidly recruiting members from the best classes of Scotchwomen.

Of the 41 medals awarded to the exhibitors of the Palais des Champs Elysees not a single one was given to a woman. In the matter of honorable mention, however, they were more fortunate, eight of them being awarded in this way.

Miss Olea Bull, daughter of the famous violinist, has decided to go on the stage and will make her debut with the Earnest Opera company in "Prince Pro Tem," which will open the regular season at the Boston Museum next September.

Queen Margaret of Italy has a long memory. She refused to accompany King Humbert on a visit to Queen Victoria at the Villa Salmieri recently because Queen Victoria had neglected to return her call of five years ago.

It is said to be getting the fashion to address and stamp envelopes on the back. With the direction written across the folds, the letter cannot be opened by an unauthorized person without the fact being detected.

In stationary fashion tends to the use of oblong envelopes, instead of square ones. The paper folds but once. Extraordinary colors, such as deep orange, willow green and mauve are in vogue.

Tan and sunburn may be greatly prevented if, before a protracted excursion in the sun, the face is anointed with cold cream, then wiped off well and dusted rather thickly with cornstarch.

Mrs. Keena, the widow of Senator Keena of West Virginia, has been appointed postmaster of Charleston, W. Va. This is one of the most important positions held by a woman.

The first public argument held by a woman in Ireland was bestowed recently on Miss Finlay, M. D. She was made clinical assistant to the Richmond asylum.

A Standing Advertisement.

A newspaper is the greatest help to the growth of a town that can be. It is a standing advertisement that always attracts. It gives more free puffs and explanations of the place than all others. It never lets pass a good opportunity to advocate the interests of its home enterprises. It helps all of the churches, and never fails to speak out for its schools; resents all insinuations against the character of the citizens and industries of the town; and lives but to benefit the community. To repay its untiring efforts it asks the support of the people, not in a begging manner, but as a recompense for its labor. It is entitled to a livelihood, because it gives more than it takes. It only asks for its rights, and those it should have.

Capes are still shown in new and pretty designs and will be very popular until the cold weather comes. Jackets have distinctly usurped the extreme favor that the cape enjoyed last spring.

It has been computed that about 36,000,000 babies are born into the world each year. The rate of production is therefore about seventy per minute, or more than one for every tick of the clock.

Though meanness may attain exalted state,

It ranks not therefore with the truly great.

The palm tree, though its foliage be superb,

Hath not the virtues of the common herb.

For a stiff neck apply over the place affected a piece of black oil-cloth with the right side to the skin, then tie up the neck with a thick handkerchief. In a short time the part will grow moist, and by leaving thus twelve hours the pain will be removed.

On Sunday last at St. Francis' Church, Sonoma, a large class of girls and boys received first communion. The church was crowded with the parents, guardians and friends of the children. Many Protestants came to witness the beautiful and solemn ceremony.

POSTMASTER JOHN AUSTIN.

Admitted to Bail in the Sum of $500.

John Austin, Postmaster of Agua Caliente, charged by J. B. Morris and M. K. Cady with opening letters addressed to them, and who was arrested last week and taken to San Francisco, has been admitted to bail in the small sum of $500.

The offense charged against Austin is not looked very seriously upon by the people of this valley, who consider it a personal squabble between the three men, who have not been upon very friendly terms for some months past.

EXCITING RUNAWAY.

Narrow Escape of Two Ladies and Four Little Girls.

On Tuesday last an exciting runaway took place at the Shellville Postoffice. Mrs. Capt. Hauto was out driving with her three little girls. She was accompanied by Mrs. Brunze and child living on the Jones ranch. When near the Postoffice at Shellville the shaft of the two-seated spring wagon gave way, which frightened the animal, and he tore madly down the road leading to Embarcadero. One by one the occupants were thrown from the vehicle during the horse's mad flight from Shellville to the Lower Landing, a distance of over two miles, if we except Mrs. Hauto's eldest daughter, who managed to maintain her seat in the swaying wagon, until the animal came to a standstill at the Hauto residence.

The ladies and the children were all more or less cut up and bruised, but fortunately escaped without broken bones.

The horse was also badly used up.

This is the third time in the past few years that this horse has run away and thrown Mrs. Hauto and her children out of their wagon. There is an old saying that if a horse once runs away he will always run away when he gets an opportunity, and this horse of Capt. Hauto's, which is a very gentlemanly animal except when frightened, would seem to bear out that assertion.

Sequel to a Stolen Watch and Chain.

Last June a valuable gold watch and chain were stolen from C. W. Engelbert, the well-known butcher of this place. At first it was thought he had lost it in the barn in the rear of his shop, but a most vigorous search in and around the premises failed to bring it to light, and it was given up as lost. After a lapse of over two months it was decided, however, to advertise in the INDEX-TRIBUNE a description of the time-piece, such as the initials on the case, number, etc., in the hopes that the reward of $40 offered would scare the thief into returning the watch to its owner without making himself known. The ruse succeeded. On Monday last two little boys while playing in the barn in the rear of the butcher shop discovered the missing time piece and restored it to its owner. As the spot where the watch was found had been searched over several times there is no doubt whatever that the thief, becoming alarmed and fearing detection, put the watch where it was found. The watch and chain are valued at $200.

Death of James Biggins.

James Biggins, the well-known stock raiser, died at his home near this place on Wednesday night of last week at 12 o'clock. Mr. Biggins had been confined to his bed for several months and his death was not unexpected. The deceased located in this valley many years ago and engaged in stock raising. His ranch, consisting of several hundred acres, was a model stock farm. Mr. Biggins was a great lover of horse flesh and his name has been familiar for many years to every horse man on the Coast. He had many friends all over the State.

The funeral took place from St. Vincent's Church, Petaluma last Monday. High Mass was celebrated by Rev. M. J. Wythe of Sonoma, after which the remains were interred in Calvary Cemetery near Petaluma. A large concourse followed the hearse to the grave.

The deceased leaves a wife and three young lady daughters, the Misses Maggie, Mary and Annie Biggins and a host of friends who will greatly miss him in this life.

Mr. Biggins was a native of Ireland, aged 67 years and leaves a valuable estate to be divided up among his wife and daughters.

A Thief that is Known.

Four twenty-foot planks were stolen off Granville Harris' hay wagon which was standing outside of his livery stable in this place one night last week. The thief is known and he would oblige Mr. Harris very much if he would return them before he is compelled to do so.

THE SONOMA FIREMEN.

A Large Attendance at their Last Meeting—Donation to a Sick Member.

The Sonoma Volunteer Fire Company, consisting of engine, hose carriage and hook and ladder truck, now numbers a membership of nearly forty. It is five years since the company was organized, but notwithstanding that fact there is more interest being taken in its affairs by its members than ever before. The members meet twice a month, one meeting being devoted to drill and the other to business. At the business meeting last Wednesday evening nearly every member answered to roll call.

It being brought to the attention of the Company that Fireman Matson was lying dangerously ill at his residence on Napa street a donation of $30 was voted him out of the funds in the treasury, which at the present time is not filled to overflowing, owing to the purchase of a new fire bell and similar donations in the past.

Following are the officers and members of the Company:

Officers—J. M. Cheney, President; J. G. Marey, Secretary; H. H. Granice, Treasurer; J. E. Poppe, Chief; Jno. Ludeman, First Assistant; Andrew Goess, Second Assistant; Geo. Breitenbach, Foreman Hose Carriage; George Engler, Foreman Hook and Ladder Truck; Lorenzo Modini, Foreman Engine.

Members—C. W. Engelbert, G. S. Harris, F. DeMartini, Peter Keil, C. Haydermann, Henry Weyl, Jr., George Spanning, J. Fochetti, G. A. Goess, N. Ahern, R. A. Poppe, E. Robin, A. Schweickhardt, G. H. Holtz, F. Grothaus, A. Zeller, C. Aguilon, H. Castagnasso, B. Anselmi, A. Caminata, F. Pezzaglia, V. Bulotti, C. Dal Pozzetto, L. Quartaroli, M. Matson, H. N. Krager, J. H. Albertson, C. Dresel, W. F. Wilson, S. Cucci, G. DeBernardi, W. W. Fowler.

The City's Tax Levy.

At a special meeting of the City Trustees, held last Monday evening, Trustees Weyl, Litzius, Seipp and Trudgen being present, the following resolution was passed:

Resolved, that the rate of taxes in the City of Sonoma for the year 1893 be and the same is hereby fixed at 10 cents upon each $100 of taxable property for the general fund, and the City Clerk is hereby directed to apportion said taxes upon the Assessment Roll as equalized and corrected by the Board of Equalization and to make out and deliver to the City Collector a tax list in the usual form, taking his receipt therefor.

This resolution was introduced by Trustee Seipp, received a second from Trustee Litzius and was passed by their votes. Trustee Trudgen voted no. President Weyl being in the chair did not vote. This levy of 10 cents will bring in the insignificant sum of $360 after deducting expenses of collection on which to carry on the municipal affairs the coming year.

Trustees Seipp, Litzius, Schocken and Weyl were interviewed and asked why so insignificant a levy had been made. They replied that this year and were averse to all public improvements except street repairs and the keeping up of the Plaza, if they were to judge from a petition presented to them at their last meeting signed by 70 or 80 property-owners. That with $500 in the treasury, $1000 to be collected on licenses and $360 to be raised on the 10 cent levy they could very well satisfy the wants of the people of the town in the way of improvements and make as good a showing on that levy as their predecessors had done on five times the amount.

Sonoma County Wins

A dispatch was received from Chicago Wednesday stating that "the white wine of the Italian-Swiss Colony of Asti, California has been awarded the first prize." The dispatch was sent by the officials of the International Exposition and was addressed to Secretary Sharboro of the Italian-Swiss colony. Sonoma county wines are famous the world over and it is not surprising that they should win the first premium at the World's Fair.—Santa Rosa Republican.

Watermelons vs. Bird Shot.

A number of young men of El Verano, while raiding J. B. Morris' watermelon patch at Agua Caliente, one night last week, were fired upon by either Morris or some one else on the ranch. Two barrels of a shot gun loaded with bird shot were discharged at the trespassers, two of whom were hit. One of the boys will take his meals standing up for the next few days.

Crispi Miranda, a young man well-known between here and Santa Rosa, was accidentally shot near Willits, in Mendocino county, while hunting deer in the hills last Sunday.
